Introduction

Hispack wraps up

General satisfaction, business potential, exponential growth and more internationalism; Hispack 2006 closed a successful show and showed the dynamics, innovation and economic potential of the packing, packaging and Point of Sales Advertising industry.

With the best packaging solutions on the market, the show interests all industrial and consumer sectors. Hispack is the most important packaging and point of sales advertising show in Spain and one of the leading four in Europe.

Exhibitors

Growth in exhibits

The sector's good situation had a positive effect on the show. Hispack grows year after year. Over 2,000 companies participated in 2006, around 900 with their own stand and more than 1,300 represented: a 19% increase on 2003.

Activities

All aspects of packaging

A packed activities programme showed the possibilities of the packaging world: technological, economic, commercial, sociological and cultural. 1800 people participated in the fifteen conferences, seminars and meetings

First Hispack Encounter on Research and Development in Packing and Packaging

International Congress which brought in 131 researchers and technicians to present the latest advances in barrier materials applied to packing and packaging technology. Experts from Japan, the U.S. and various European Union countries participated.

In collaboration with the Instituto de Agroquímica y Tecnología de los Alimentos del Centro Superior de Investigaciones Científicas (IATA-CSIC).

Conferences and seminars

Experts analysed the main concerns and future strategies: innovation, certification, sustainability, packaging, etc. as a product seller

In the Master Conference on marketing and packaging the publicist Lluís Bassat highlighted the influence of packaging in product sales.

Designers, manufacturers of POS Advertising, publicists and advertising brands analysed the power of Point of Sales Advertising and its new application possibilities. Round table debate organised by the Graphispack Association.

Conferences on Innovation, Design and Certification in the packaging industry. Experts pointed out that innovation is a fundamental tool for company maintenance.

Organised by the Innopack Private Foundation and Barcelona Centre de Disseny

The Conferences on RFID/EPC provided insight on the application possibilities and the extension of radiofrequency labels.

Promoted by AECOC

In the Seminar on Ecodesign of Packing and Packaging, well known experts explained their experiences in environmentally friendly packaging design. They spoke about the legislative precedents relative to packaging and waste and about the expectations of enforcement of new regulations.

Over 500 university and vocational training students participated in the Youth Packaging Conferences. The event provided insight to young people studying subjects related to business, communication and industry.

Exhibiting companies and organisations also organised their own conferences, seminars and presentations. The highlighted issues were: aseptic packaging; safety in storage of aerosols; new automatic packaging systems; certification in PDF; and packaging for purchasing managers of user companies.

RFID Area

The show dedicated an area to RFID technology to present the possibilities of intelligent labels. The organisers installed a demonstration area with data recorders and readers, labels with electronic chips and receiver antennas.

Pack & Food. History, Culture and Memory of Packaging

Cultural exhibition showing the influence of packaging on improving food and well-being of society which was part of the Year of Food, Cuisine and Gastronomy of Barcelona.

AI Invest Business Meetings

AMEC ENVASGRAF coordinated business meetings between 82 European and 27 Latin American companies linked to the packaging sector. Participants expressed their satisfaction about the 150 plus contacts made. These meetings foster trade agreements on distribution, joint manufacturing, technology transfer and strategic alliances to reach new markets.

2006 White paper on packing and packaging

Hispack 2006 presented the third edition of the White Paper on Packing and Packaging, a unique publication which analyses the sector in Spain, the current situation and trends: an effective tool in decision making. The Spanish packaging industry currently moves over 10,000 million euros a year. It is estimated that there are 1,650 companies engaged in this activity in Spain which employ 55,000 workers. It is a healthy industry which is expanding at a faster rate than the country's overall economy.

Liderpack awards

The annual Liderpack awards, which were created in 1995, are the most highly regarded awards given in Spain in the Packaging and PoS Advertising sector. Find out the winners of the 2007 competition.

Hispack is news

All the Spanish magazines from the packaging sectors and user sectors such as food, pharmacy, chemistry, distribution, advertising, design, maintenance and logistics, graphic arts, industry and cosmetics spoke about Hispack. It also made the news in the foreign trade press. Technical magazines from various European Union and Latin American countries covered the show.

The general media -newspapers, radio and television stations- and the economic press informed their audiences about the Spanish packaging industry through Hispack.

Hispack 2009

11 - 15 May

Hispack continues to grow. In 2009, it will be held at the same time as BTA (Barcelona Food Technologies). The two shows will use all five pavilions in the Gran Via exhibition centre for the first time. We are working to make the most important packing, packaging and POS Advertising trade show even bigger and to consolidate it among the sector's European shows.

The main challenges are more internationalism, more exhibits, maximum sector involvement, promotional activities to make the sector known and more contact with packaging users.

Hispack, a show which is moving firmly towards the future.
